

SHELTER BELT OF TREES 100 MILES WIDE IS PLANNED

WILL EXTEND FROM CANADA THRU TEXAS

Government Plans To Plant 1,820,000 Trees

By Stephen J. McDonough, Associated Press Staff Writer. Washington, July 21.—(AP)—An immediate beginning on an experiment in climate control that will blot the mid-western drought area with a belt of trees 100 miles wide and over 1,600 miles long was decided upon today by the government.

An executive order, signed by President Roosevelt July 11, allocated $15,000,000 of emergency funds for preliminary work on the project.

Federal authorities have had the venture under consideration for some time. Meanwhile, the drought has been growing progressively worse. Secretary Wallace announced that now is the time to begin.

"This will be the largest project ever undertaken in this country to modify climate and other agricultural conditions in an area that is now constantly harassed by winds and drought," F. A. Silcox, chief of the forest service, said.

Salient Features.

Here are the salient features of the plan:

The shelter belt will extend from the Canadian border to the Texas Panhandle through North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma.

The cost is estimated at $75,000,000.

Windbreaks about seven miles wide, running north and south, will be planted about one mile apart over the 100 mile belt. There will be approximately 100 parallel lines of trees.

Close to fourteen acres out of each square mile will be planted to trees.

Planting on a major scale is to begin by 1936 and to proceed at the rate of about 180,000 acres per year. Completion is looked for by 1944.

Officials said the land to be used would be acquired by the government through purchase, lease, or co-operative agreement with farmers. The areas between the strips of trees will remain in private ownership.

Secretary Wallace authorized the forest service to make expenditures up to $10,000,000 to start the work. Other funds will be advanced as needed.

Kin in U. S. Fear For Roehm Aide

The Chicago family of Ludwig Neumeier is worried about him. For at least reports he was in Germany acting as chauffeur to Ernst Roehm, executed Storm Troop leader. Dispatches reported that Roehm's chauffeur was slain. So this picture of her son Ludwig with his little daughter Erika, saddens the Chicago mother, Mrs. Fanny Neumeier.

COMMUNISTS ARE BUSY IN COAL FIELDS

Nine Reputed Reds Being Held At Hillsboro

East St. Louis, Ill., July 21.—(AP)—Communist agitators, and officials backed by Illinois' drastic "treason code" are meeting head-on in the turbulent soft coal area and other southern sectors of this state where labor troubles are commonplace.

Nine reputed Communists are held in Hillsboro, charged with "conspiracy to overthrow the government," which may be punished by as much as a ten year prison term. Strike movements, allegedly Communist inspired, occurred this week in three other southern Illinois counties, where relief workers have demands for increased pay.

Strikes Not New.

Strikes are not new to southern Illinois. For several years the tramp of National Guardsmen has echoed periodically in "coal town" streets, as the state sought to prevent additional violence between warring factions of miners.

The troubles of the dissenting United Mine Workers, and the Progressive Miners, which brought frequent violence and bloodshed, no longer feature newspaper front pages. Stories of alleged Communist fostered labor trouble have succeeded the "Herrin massacre" and other blood but less known developments.

State officials estimated today that approximately $577,000 was spent in the past five years by the National Guard while on emergency duty, virtually all concerned with miners' difficulties. A total of $250,000 was spent in this manner in the year ending June 30.

And now comes a reputed "Red" menace and the organization of vigilantes to combat the alleged threat. The nine men held at Hillsboro were arrested June 2 on charges of "conspiracy to overthrow the government." The State Supreme Court refused to grant writs of habeas corpus for their release. Bond of $8,000 set for each prisoner has been met by two other alleged conspirators.

Those still jailed include Jan Wittenber and John Adams, both professional Communist organizers from Chicago. Nine of the men recently went on a hunger strike, which they voluntarily abandoned after five days.

The arrests followed "relief demonstrations" which disrupted the Nokomis, Ill., city council, and included picketing of homes of relief officials. Tear bombs were used by officers in breaking up meetings.

State's Attorney George A. Hall charges, among other allegations, that Adams made speeches advising hearers to "help themselves" to food supplies.

Following the unemployed disturbance in Nokomis, an estimated 500 citizens formed a vigilante group, avowedly organized to "keep the Reds from taking the town." Mayor S. B. Brown estimates that 99 per cent of the town's population is co-operating in the movement. A series of signals has been agreed upon.

MIDWEST CROP LOSS COUNTED IN MILLIONS

Each Additional Day Adds Thousands To Toll

(Copyright, 1934, by the Associated Press.)

Kansas City, Mo., July 21.—(AP)—Suffering acutely from the worst drought in its history, the midwest and southwest tonight counted its crop loss in the hundreds of millions of dollars.

Officials and semi-official sources, reporting the widespread damage, said each additional day of the withering heat would add thousands of dollars to the tremendous toll already exacted and the weather forecast said the blazing, rainless spell would continue indefinitely.

A shortage of water in some sections added to the suffering. Springs and wells dried up. Rivers and streams were low. The situation in western irrigation districts was acute.

Water Shortage.

Barren pasture land, and lack of water, caused distress among livestock. Thousands of head were sold to the government for processing. Forced selling, because of the water shortage and burned meadow, brought a heavy influx of livestock that threatened demoralization of the Kansas City livestock market. Nearly 50,000 head were received this week, and a larger number was expected next week.

A 5-state drought conference was called by the federal department of agriculture, to meet in Kansas City Monday, to discuss the increasingly serious situation. Representatives from Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Arkansas will attend.

In Nebraska alone, the crop damage was estimated officially at $156,000,000.

In Missouri, the corn crop lost some 100,000,000 bushels in July, and continued to drop with each additional day of drought. The oat yield was estimated at only ten per cent of the normal crop, the lowest yield in the state's history. Pastures were only 15 to 20 per cent of normal and decreasing rapidly. Corn rapidly approached the condition of no yield at all, and even a bumper corn crop would leave the state short of feed to carry cattle through the winter because of loss of hay and forage crops. Thirty per cent of the farmers over the state were hauling water. Fifteen per cent had trouble getting any water at all. In some places, livestock had to be driven 10 miles to water.

In Minnesota, Ralph Criss, assistant state agronomist, said losses ran into the millions, with each additional day of the heat further damaging the corn crop. The loss to small grain, he said, runs from four-fifths to one-half of the crop.

Southern Iowa expected only half its usual crop. A government official said many farmers in the triangular area between Des Moines, Shenandoah and Centerville had harvested no oats, no wheat, very little hay, and corn is worth no more than fodder.

JOLIET CONVICT BREAKS SILENCE AFTER 3 YEARS

Names Commodore Fitzgerald As Actual Slayer of Fred Siebert

Joliet, Ill., July 21.—(AP)—Breaking a three-year silence, William Neill, a convict serving a 30-year term at the state penitentiary here for complicity in the murder of Fred Siebert, 64, in a saloon holdup in 1930, today named Commodore Fitzgerald, former resident of Flora, Ill., as the actual slayer. Neill, who resided at various addresses in southern Illinois, was sentenced in May, 1931, upon his plea of guilty but at that time did not name his companions in the holdup.

Fitzgerald is now in jail at Louisville, Ill., on a charge of petty larceny.

Four months after the slaying Neill was seized in Texas. He was defended in his trial by William R. McCabe. It was to McCabe, now state's attorney that he made his statement implicating Fitzgerald.

Louisville, Ill., July 21.—(AP)—Commodore Fitzgerald, former Flora, Ill., resident, had not been informed today of the statement of William Neill, Joliet prisoner, implicating Fitzgerald in a murder three years ago for which Neill is now serving a 30-year sentence.

Sheriff P. E. Speaks of Clay county, where Fitzgerald is held on a petty larceny charge, said he did not intend to inform the prisoner at least for several days.

State's Attorney George A. Hall charges, among other allegations, that Adams made speeches advising hearers to "help themselves" to food supplies.

CONVICTS CRAWL THRU SEWER AND MAKE GETAWAY

Five Prisoners Fight Slime, Rats And Darkness

Philadelphia, July 21.—(AP)—Five convicts made a dramatic escape from the eastern state penitentiary today by traveling four city blocks through a sewer system. Within two hours three of the men were captured and two of them were sent to a hospital with injuries received in their dash.

A policeman and started street crowds saw the men, one nude and the others clad only in underwear, emerge from a manhole and run toward nearby railroad tracks.

The policeman gave the alarm that resulted in the apprehension of the three several miles away.

THREE CAPTURED

Those captured:

Edward Zielinski, 21, serving five to ten years for robbery.

Martin Smith, 2, serving six and one half to 13 years for robbery and larceny of an automobile.

George H. Naygren, 28, serving three to six years for felonious entry, larceny, and receiving stolen goods.

Still at large were Roy Francis Wiley, 25, serving ten to 20 years, and William Conway, 19, serving 25 to 50 years for robbery while armed.

The men traveled a path of horror and danger in their flight. Slime, rats and utter blackness were the chief obstacles.

"I didn't even get a swim out of it," said Naygren after his capture.

Discussing the flight, he told police: "After the exercises this afternoon my four buddies and I leaped into the conduit of the prison. We took off our clothes. Several times we almost gave up fighting our way through the sewer. We were tired to death and we ran across so many rats that we got sick."

"Just as we were about to go back and call the whole thing off we saw daylight. We did not know where the manhole was leading us to, but we took a chance and came out."

Naygren, also known as George Wilmond, explained how they reached the Baltimore & Ohio railroad tracks and, upon discovering they were being pursued, scattered.

SETTLEMENT OF PACIFIC COAST STRIKE NEAR

Longshoremen Agree To Arbitrate All Issues

By The Associated Press.

Another assault from a persistent heat wave yesterday boosted the death toll of three blistering days to calamity proportions and buried more havoc in the nation's fields.

One hundred and six more deaths were reported as the thermometers climbed far past normal July marks in 19 states. The toll for the super-heated three days stood at 206.

Only the northern border and the west escaped Saturday's siege. New York City, comfortable at 77 degrees Friday, sweltered in a temperature of 94. In Maryland 100-plus readings were common.

While the rest of the nation simmered, snow fell in Colorado Springs, Colo., for several minutes after the first rain since July 4. Such snowfalls have occurred before but are rare.

But the sun blazed most fiercely in the drought-blighted middle-west where the heat wave was only a hotter interlude in a 30-day siege for which weather books contain no parallel this side of 1901.

For the second day it was 108 degrees in Ottumwa, Ia., Springfield, Ill., reported 105; in St. Paul the mercury jumped ten degrees over Friday's high 102. Hottest spot in the corn belt was Hannibal, Mo., at 109.

In Cincinnati the day brought a high of 108 degrees; in Jefferson City, Mo., 107; and in Topeka, Kas., 105.

Weather observers, surprised by the heat wave's duration, blamed it partly upon the drought, explaining that the bank soil of the farming belt heated easily and held heat like a stove.

They said hot air from the southwest was flowing to the central states, and could offer no prospects for relief aside from scattered local showers unless the wind changed.

Nebraska, in its 13th consecutive day of temperatures of 100 degrees or more, reckoned its crop losses at $156,000,000. The day intensified the water-famine on the Great Plains, and farmers frantically sank new wells to keep their stock alive.

Plus-100 temperatures were general in Ohio, and in Columbus a thermometer at the street level boiled up to 111 degrees. The heat literally broke the thermometer at Burlington, Ia., where the government weather observer's official instrument popped at 107 degrees.

Although a few degrees below Friday's record-breaking highs in some cities, Saturday's onslaught brought scores of heat prostrations along with the deaths attributed to the discomfort.

The toll for 3 days in Chicago rose to 29. Missouri's list of heat victims struck 50. Nebraska blamed the wave for 33 deaths.

Elsewhere totals were:

Kansas 12, Oklahoma 7, Connecticut 2, Minnesota 8, Illinois 35, Iowa 12, New York 4, Texas 10, Pennsylvania 2, Ohio 10, Michigan 3, one each Arkansas, Indiana, Maryland, Mississippi, Rhode Island, Kentucky 3, Georgia 2, Massachusetts 3, Washington, D. C. 2.

While its suburbs baked in temperatures as high as 110 Chicago had the uncertain benefit of a capricious lake breeze.

High marks of the day included:

Atlanta, Ga., 95.

Indianapolis 104.5.

Washington, D. C. 98.

Lexington, Ky., 100.

Philadelphia 95.

St. Paul 103.

St. Louis 103.

Louisville, Ky., 97.

Brisk Snowfall Is Reported At Colorado Springs

Colorado Springs, Colo., July 21.—(AP)—A brisk snowfall helped cool Colorado Springs this afternoon. Snow fell heavily in the business section for several minutes. It followed a drizzling rain, the first since July 4.

Elsewhere in Colorado temperatures ranged in the 80s, with brief but cooling rains reported in Denver and other northern parts of the state.

The generally cooling weather in the state followed a period of more than a week during which the thermometer hovered near 100 degrees.

Minute particles of snow fell in downtown Denver for one minute from 6:04 p. m. to 6:05 p. m. Mountain time. Persons on the streets, surprised at the sight of frozen precipitation coming from a sky which cast down a maximum of 95 degrees yesterday and 100 Thursday, stopped in their tracks to gaze at the brief weather phenomenon.

Salvaging The Corn Crop

Morgan county farmers haven't given up the corn crop yet. Last week's searing heat and lack of moisture combined to damage all growing crops,
but there is hope yet for thousands of acres of sturdy corn that is now about
at the halfway stage of development.
Illinois corn "can take it" but of course there is a limit to abuse.

First the drought, which has threatened the crop for weeks. Then the storm and hail, which leveled some fields and left others riddled by the ice pellets. Now comes the most intense heat wave in history to further
menace the fruits of the harvest.

I view of all these setbacks, the U. S.
Department of Agriculture has issued a statement of special interest to farmers in sections hard hit by heat and drought. A corn field, stricken by this combination of adverse weather conditions, need not be regarded as a total loss, the experts say.

That is only mildly comforting to the farmers who stand to lose most of their crop if rains do not arrive. But anything of hopeful nature is worth considering.

"A hot wind—the terror of the corn grower, may blast the pollen of the corn plants and prevent formation of grain, and yet the fields may yield
much of value as feed for livestock.

Arthur M. Brunson, an agronomist in the Division of Cereal Crops and Disease, said:

"The incomplete pollination of corn
is one of the hazards confronting growers in the Great Plains Area."

Brunson stated, "High temperature,
prolonged drought, or both may blast
the entire tassel and kill the pollen
grains. Such conditions usually accompany what is known as a "hot wind." Often a crop that gives early promise of producing well, will encounter these unfavorable conditions
at the critical flowering period, and,
as a result, will produce no grain.

"Oddly enough comparatively little information has been available on the effect of interference with grain production upon the other parts of the corn plant. If, because of poor pollination, the plant can produce no
grain, is it not possible that the food elements that are normally stored in the corn might instead be found in the plant itself? This was the question the research workers determined to answer. When drought and heat injury was confined principally to the pollen and not to the plant as a whole,
material to make the grain is manufactured by the leaves and stems of the plant. Might not these barren plants then contain more nutrient material than ordinary corn stover—
the plants from which the ears have been removed?"

"After a 2-year investigation their answer is yes, decidedly so, in the results they have reported.

"When the set of grain in corn plants is prevented or reduced by interference with normal pollination,
protein in particular and, to a less extent, other nutrients tend to accumulate in abnormal proportion in other organs of the plant, while the proportion of comparatively indigestible crude fiber there is reduced. This is especially true of cobs and stems.
The composition of the cob is influenced more than that of any other part of the plant.

"If the plant makes little grain it may make excellent cobs containing considerably more protein, fat, and ash, and less fiber than usual. Plants with poorly filled ears contain more
protein and ash, slightly more fiber,
and less fat and nitrogen-free extract than equal weights of plants
with well-filled ears.

"Pound for pound, silage or fodder
from the barren crop may actually be higher in protein and ash and nearly as high in energy value as that from a crop with a full set of grain. Stover from plants with poorly filled ears
has an appreciably better feeding value than an equal weight of stover
from plants that had well-filled ears."

Such an explanation will carry only a small amount of solace to farmers of this section. They want to raise corn, not fodder. It it comes to the worst
they will salvage the crop in any manner possible, without questioning the quality of the leavings of what once
promised to be a bumper crop.

The next fed days will bring a change for better or worse. There still is a chance for the average field of growing corn. Should the crop pass
this crisis with a fair degree of success most farmers will be satisfied, remember the many pitfalls it has encountered.

Death Haunts The Highways
The increase in the number of fatalities which have occurred from various accidents on the country's highways in the past several months
has produced widespread alarm. Each day the press reports carry accounts
of mishaps in motor vehicle travel
from which numerous individuals involved have been killed and others injured and crippled, perhaps for life.
The various automobile clubs and even state and government officials

are now casting about for some means
to put a halt to the growing list of accident victims.

A movement is being started in this state to have some kind of bill passed whereby the incompetent drivers will be ruled from the highways to a great extent. A law with plenty of "claws"
to prevent evasion will probably be the result of the drive in the near future.
Just what the bill and law will contain will depend upon the manner in
it is handled by the legislators.

It would be a good thing to have
all drivers of motor vehicles licensed
in much the same manner that flying permits are issued to aviators. When would-be-drivers would apply for their permit they would be subjected to thorough tests and would be forced to meet reasonable requirements in order to be allowed to drive a vehicle
over the highways.

The automobile in control of an individual under the influence of in-toxics becomes a machine of destruction of human life. The reckless and careless drivers are increasing in number each day to become the greatest menace to safety on the roads.
Inability to react quickly to certain conditions and situations in travel
and ignorance of driving rules and etiquette distinguish another group of drivers. These could be eliminated
under a law governing drivers, and erase the hazards of motor travel.

Donkey Baseball

Interest in amateur and playground
baseball leagues in numerous cities
and towns this year has recently been given a good boost by the introduction of what is called "donkey baseball." Sometimes the players get the worst of it by the new style of playing, but the fans are provided with an abundance of side-splitting laughter.

About the only change in the regular form of playing the game is that the players are required to ride small mules or burros, with the exception of the pitcher and catcher of the team
on the defensive. A batsman setting a hit must hop astride his mule and try to make first base, a small circle drawn on the ground. If the "base-runner" falls or is thrown off his steed, he is out. Fielders are given the privilege of getting off their mount to retrieve the ball after they have ridden to within four feet of where the pellet came to rest after a roller or fly has been hit.

The mules used to play the game
are very unruly and obstinate and
the rider never knows what is really going to happen when he starts out or
in what direction he may find himself
traveling. In a game at Springfield Friday night, one player had the good fortune to get a hard hit and guided
his mule around the bases for a home run, a most unusual occurrence in
donkey baseball.

The novelty of the game and the vast amount of entertainment provided has created great interest among both old and young wherever the games are staged.

National Suicide

The Bolivians lately have been celebrating a great victory. Their dispatches tell of thousands of Paraguayan dead scattered around the outer defenses of their strongest forts,
in the northern Chaco region.

Soon, perhaps, we shall be hearing of another Paraguayan victory. The two neighbors seem to alternate in massacre. And if half their reports are true, the two nations must have already killed each other white.

Soon there will be inviting prospects for immigrants in both countries. The Gran Chaco for which they have been fighting may be settled by foreigners.

Apparently mankind has learned little from fruitless war. Those two crazy combatants in South America
could have grown rich by agreeing on a boundary line—almost any line—
and then trading with each other as
the United States and Canada do.
They seem as incapable of ceasing
struggle as two stags with locked horns.

Evidently the Bolivians haven't been wronged so much as they have pretended, by the American refusal to continue selling arms to either combatant. They still seem to get arms enough, by open importation from other countries or by contraband shipments smuggled in. So do the Paraguayans.

SO THEY SAY!

There are no more zealous guardians of constitutional rights than the officials who head and man the legal branch of our government.

mings.

important. It is what we do not know.

The New Deal
in Washington

Sons of Great Men All Remind Us . . . One Bureau Head Leans Backward . . .
Caviar From the Russians—
And "Vodka" From Inflation
Thomas.

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal-Courier Washington
Correspondent

Washington, July 21.—Anyone who wants to know what becomes of sons
of famous men should come here and take a look.

Most of them seem to be working in the government now. Two or three already are more celebrated than their dads. Just as a far from complete list—

Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace has the job his father once had
in a Republican administration. Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morn-ganthau's father was Wilson's ambassador to Turkey.

Big, youthful Charles Eliot, secretary of the National Planning Board,
and Thomas Eliot, a lawyer in one of the emergency agencies, are sons of Harvard's great former president,
Charles Edison, enthusiastic New Dealer who works with the Emergency Council and helped develop the housing program, is the son of the inventor.

Young Franklin K. Lane, Jr., whose dad was secretary of the interior, has been named to the new air policy board. Dr. Worth B. Daniels, son of Ambassador-to-Mexico Josephus, is on the local Board of Public Welfare.

The father of Director Joseph H.
Choate Jr., of the Federal Alcohol Control Administration was ambassador to Britain for McKinley and Theodore Roosevelt.

In NRA you find young, blond Robert Straus, son of the ambassador to France, holding a high executive post
alongside that of Kilbourne Johnston, son of General Johnson himself. The late E. H. Harriman, railway king, provided two children for NRA—A.
Averill Harriman, who was No. 2 man
under Johnson, and Chairman Mary Harriman Rumsey of the Consumers
Advisory Board.

Charles P. Taft, son of the ex-president and late chief justice, was recently recruited by Secretary Perkins to settle the Toledo strike. Kermit Roosevelt, son of T. R. and brother of Alvin Longworth, sets here frequently. He, like Vincent Astor, is a good friend of F. D.'s.

In the Senate there are Bennett
Champ Clark and Robert M. La Follette.

Leaning Backward
Perhaps you've heard those erroneous backslurs yams that the administration is overloaded with Jews.

Their existence gives point to the sad story of a legal chief in one of the blegner emergency agencies, himself a Jew, and an Irish Catholic subordinate who heads one of his sections and has selected 13 Jews for his staff of 18.

Jews are a small minority in other sections. The chief keeps remonstrating to the Irishman, sometimes
as follows:

"This Palestine football team' of yours looks like hell! Hasn't the Catholic church ever produced any good lawyers you could hire? It must have—or it wouldn't have lasted so long."

But this kidding does no good. The section head is a born hater of racial and religious prejudice and insists on showing it—even if that does slightly embarrass the boss.

Caviar to the Russian
The Russian palace on Sixteenth street never seems to run out of caviar, vodka and various other delicacies which help make its functions
the best among those of embassies
here. Somebody asked little Ambasador Trotsky how such splendor
and luxury squared with the proletarian idea. The diplomat replied that caviar and vodka were not luxuries
in Russia, that his country inherited an embassy and had to fix it up, that Russians loved beautiful places and things and hoped to make them available to all the Russian people. (More might have been said, but wasn't.)

Vodka reminds me of how silver-haired, impeccably groomed Senator Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma, No. 1 inflationist, once had fun with a vodka
bottle which he brought back—empty—
from Russia in prohibition days. Some friends had picked up some especially pleasant bootleg hooch in Pennsylvania and left it with him. He put the stuff in the fancy bottle and thereafter enjoyed the enthusiastic exclamations of guests to whom he introduced it as the Russian national drink.

WILL ROGERS says:
To the Editor of The Journal-Courier:
Santa Monica, Calif., July 21.—One
of the funniest angles to the strike in San Francisco, bar tenders had been out of work for 14 years, just been back in for six months, then called out again. I was working yesterday and missed all the lunches they given my friend Jim Farley. Everybody in the state but Baby Leroy is running for governor, so Jim endorsed Leroy.
He arrived at four o'clock in the morning, an unearthly hour, but in spite of that there was over two hundred men there, every one a postmaster. Its a mighty poor town that Jim hasn't got one staunch friend in.
Yours, WILL

Morgan Feeders to View Cattle Tests

Record gains that have been made in cattle feeding experiments at the U. of I. College of Agriculture in spite of an otherwise unfavorable farming
year are expected to heighten the interest of Morgan county farmers in the annual cattle feeders' meeting
which will be held at the college on Friday, August 3. It is announced by Farm Adviser I. E. Parrett.

It is probable that a number of farmers and cattle feeders from this county will attend, although the list is not complete at the present time.

Not for twenty years have cattle
of similar age and weight gained as well as some of those that are on feed
this year, it is reported by Prof. H. P. Rusk, head of the department of animal industry, and R. R. Snapp, of the beef cattle division.

Results will be available on fattening steers in dry lot, on grazing and
feeding yearling heifers on pasture,
and on maintaining the breeding herd.
In all, there are 200 cattle on feed in eight different experiments that will be closed the day of the meeting.

Farmers in Morgan and other counties get about 11 per cent of their cash
income from beef cattle and calves.
New findings in this phase of farm operations which the college has to present this year are reported to be more interesting and significant than any results that the institution has had to present to cattle feeders for a long time.

In spite of the unprecedented
drouth some of the most striking results in this year's feeding experiments have been obtained on pastures
which for the state as a whole have been burned out. One lot of yearling heifers has averaged two and a half pounds a head daily during the first two months without any grain feed on a mixed pasture in which brome grass
and second year's sweet clover predominated. Alfalfa pastures on the college farm have carried three yearlings an acre in spite of the drouth.

The complete program for the cattle feeders' day is to be announced
within the next few days.

Here's Why This August Sale of Fine Furs Will Stand as a 1935 Triumph

We started to work on this event way back in the spring. There's invariably a mad scramble for first-catch skins because they're the best. But we were ahead of the pack—our experts picked and chose carefully and leisurely. Next we worked closely with the craftsmen, who, because of an early start, had the time to produce better styled, better tailored, and better finished coats.

Now come and see these coats. Styles that will amaze you with their dramatic effects—models that your favorite screen stars are choosing. New, glorious, exciting. Rich warm colorings—including brown and black. Luxurious silk linings. And pelts that are the pride of the fur world. Summing it up, we feel that we have every reason to call this the fur sale triumph of 1935.

One of Those Intriguing "With or Without"
Frocks

PATTERN 1778

This is one of those "with or without" frocks that are so intriguing. You can make it with the graceful short sleeves or without them. You can either have that amazing little frill at the closing of the yoke or not, exactly as you please. But that is not the only option the pattern gives you! You can make it of a plain or printed fabric with a matching or contrasting yoke. Speaking of yokes, did you ever see one that fastened in just that way, or—to be frank—one that was quite so smart? Ideas like that do not fit into the minds of even the best of designers every day! So it is a good plan to make the most of them. You could easily make two or more frocks from this design and not even your dearest enemy would know it. Apropos of the making—summer is the time of times to qualify in home sewing. There really isn't a much more pleasant thing to do of a warm afternoon than to sit in a cool room and make a fresh frock. All summer fabrics are so inexpensive, they appeal to beginners.

Pattern 1778 is available in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 takes 3 1/2 yards 39 inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred), for each Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly your name, address and style number. BE SURE TO STATE SIZE WANTED.

The smartest warm weather fashions, the newest fabrics, and the Summer season's outstanding accessories are illustrated and described in the NEW ANNE ADAMS PATTERN BOOK. ORDER YOUR COPY OF THIS HELPFUL NEW SUMMER BOOK. PRICE OF BOOK FIFTEEN CENTS. BOOK AND PATTERN TOGETHER, TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.

Address orders to Jacksonville Journal and Courier Pattern Department, 243 West 17th Street, New York City.

AGED PEARTREE IN JERSEY WILL AGAIN HAVE A HEAVY CROP

Jerseyville, July 20.—The oldest fruit tree in the State of Illinois and possibly in the United States is bearing a crop of fruit at the farm of Mrs. Chris Neuge, five miles northeast of Jerseyville.

The tree is a variety of pear and the fruit will begin to ripen within a few weeks time. The pear tree was planted in 1830 by Ralph Hagaman Van Pelt, a pioneer who came with his wife from New Jersey in the spring of that year to the then vast wilderness of Illinois.

The trip to Jersey county was made in a wagon, and the pioneer with a view to the needs of his future home, carried a small assortment of fruit trees to be planted when the new home was located.

In spite of its 104 years of life, the old pear tree has produced a good crop again this season. Mrs. Neuge reports that as long as she has lived on the place, the tree has never failed to bear a quantity of fruit. Certain years the crop was limited to a few pears and other years the crop would prove to be quite large.

Members of the Alton Horticultural Society residing in Jerseyville have observed the aged tree and report that the fruit is a variety unknown. They expressed the belief that the tree was a seedling, which accounts for its long life and great vitality as a producer of fruit.

They will go to Russia by the way of the Scandinavian countries and will have stops of several hours to sight see in Oslo and Stockholm. They will go to Helsinki, Finland, and will enter Russia at Leningrad about August 20.

Mrs. Sala, well known in Morgan and Scott counties, is a daughter of Mrs. Charles S. Doyle of Winchester. She is an active member of the D.A.R. in Decatur, a popular speaker, and several organizations already have invited her to speak when she returns from the tour.

The Decatur Herald on July 16 said: "Rev. Mr. Sala, pastor of First Christian church, and Mrs. Sala have planned an independent itinerary for this trip. This will be Rev. Mr. Sala's fifth trip abroad and Mrs. Sala's third. Their last trip was in 1926. Rev. Mr. Sala took his first trip abroad in 1913.

"Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Sala expect to pass 10 days to two weeks in Russia, and the pastor will study at first hand some of the conditions in which he is most interested. They will visit many of the major cities. The couple will leave Russia by way of Warsaw, Poland, and will go directly to Oberammergau to see the anniversary production of the Passion Play. They then will go to Cherbourg, France, traveling over the Alps from Oberammergau to Cherbourg and Paris by automobile. They will sail from Cherbourg on the S. S. Olympic, landing back in New York Sept. 15. The couple will return directly to Decatur, so that Rev. Mr. Sala may be back at his pulpit for Sunday the 16th. While he is away members of his church will preach each Sunday. He expects to preach Aug. 5, the day that he leaves for New York."

STRAIGHT FROM OWNERS OF FORD V-8 CARS

"The Ford V-8 got the boy there in airplane time — and saved his life"

L AURIN AVANT, of Andalusia, Alabama, tells a dramatic story of the value of Ford quality and Ford performance in time of stress.

"Saturday, December 23," he writes, "my youngest boy was sitting before the fire cracking nuts. He cracked one in his mouth and as the nut burst, part of the hull went into his windpipe and almost completely stopped his breathing.

"We rushed him to our doctor. He said he couldn't get it out and the nearest place was Birmingham, 220 miles away. No train, no airplane. My doctor telephoned to Birmingham and told them that if we could get there in three or four hours, we might save him. They said it was impossible to make it in that time unless we had an airplane. But the Ford made it in 220 minutes.

"I drove my Ford V-8 lots of the way at a speed of 80 miles an hour. I was compelled to drive that fast to average a mile a minute. The Ford got the boy there in airplane time and saved his life."

Two days before Christmas

This is just one of many hundreds of letters that have been sent to us by owners of the Ford V-8. Letters that tell what the Ford car means in the daily lives of people and how it serves and helps in countless ways.

Along with these letters came actual figures on the economy and dependability of the Ford V-8 — conclusive proof that it is the most economical Ford car ever built.

34,934 owners of the Ford V-8 wrote that they had driven a total of 272,815,970 miles, over all kinds of roads, without a penny for repairs. Thousands of these owners reported 18, 19 and 20 miles per gallon with no oil added between 1000-mile changes.

Phillies Drop to Seventh Place by Losing Twin Bill To Cubs 2 to 1 and 14 to 6

Philadelphia, July 21.—(AP)—The Phillies dropped to seventh place by losing a double-header to Chicago today, the first 2 to 1 and the second 14 to 6.

"Big Jim" Weaver kept his mound standing unscathed by hurling his seventh victory for the Cubs in the first game. Doubles by Babe Herman and Kiki Cuyler with two out in the ninth produced the winning run.

The Bruins gathered 19 hits from three Phil hurlers to win the nightcap. Phil Collins was knocked from the box in the third by a five-run rally.

TIGERS DEFEAT ATHLETICS 4-1

Detroit, July 21.—(AP)—That supreme defensive achievement, a triple play, helped the Tigers defeat Philadelphia 4 to 1 today and defend their American league leadership.

Not only did Hank Greenberg, Tiger first sacker, start the mass killing, but he got a single, two doubles and a triple in four times at bat.

With Wanderer on first and McNair on second, the A's called for a hit and ran play in the fourth inning. Berry lined to Greenberg, who stepped on the bag to double Warfield, then threw to Rogell, nipping McNair and squelching a rally that threatened to wipe out the one-run lead the Tigers enjoyed at that moment.

Score: Philadelphia, 100-000-100-12-2-0; Detroit, 001-101-108-4-7-0. Pitchers: Wanderer and Berry; Hayes, Anker and Cochran.

RISKULUS WINS ARLINGTON RACE

By Charles Dunkley
Associated Press Sports Writer
Chicago, July 21.—(AP)—Riskulus, a temperamental colt which turned out to be nothing but a losing risk since he left his happy hunting grounds at Anna Caliente, ran the race of his life today to beat out Mrs. John D. Hertz's Watch Him in the $10,000 Arlington handicap.

The duel over a mile and a quarter was the most exciting stake battle of the season at Arlington, resulting in a blanket finish with the Norman Church handicap star a head in front of watch him, with the Calumet farm's Hadagal third and the even money favorite, Indian Runner, a badly beaten sixth. Riskulus time was 2:02.5, only 3-5 of a second off Sun Beau's track record.

Fifteen thousand spectators, sweltering in 90 degree heat, watched the thrilling duel. They watched Hadagal charge into the lead at the rise of the barrier, hold it for a quarter and almost for a half.

It was then that jockey Don Meade, a heat victim yesterday, sent Riskulus to the front. With the slightest urge, Riskulus responded and flashed in front by a length. He extended it to almost two lengths at the three quarters and then the real battle began.

As he eluded his lead, hugging the inside rail, Watch Him, Hadagal and Indian Runner challenged. Down the stretch the three flew with Riskulus still a length in the van. As they crossed the wire, Watch Him came fastest of all and missed victory by a bare step with Hadagal trailing slightly under the hot pace. It wasn't the usual winning numbers were posted. That the crowd was sure of the winner.

Because of his frequent disappointments, Riskulus was 8 to 1 in the field of 11 starters. He paid $18.46 to win while Watch Him, off at 11 to 1, paid $10.44 to place.

The net value of the victory to Church was $9,580 with $2,000 going to Mrs. Hertz, and $1,000 to Warren Wright, owner of Hadagal.

New Deal, owned by J. W. Parrish of Lexington, Ky., finished fourth, with Good Good, the third member of the Brookmeade stable fifth. Albuquerque, a chestnut gelding owned by the Rockwood farm, flashed to victory handsly in the Oakland purse, a tuneup for the $60,000 Arlington futurity, defeating the Brookmeade stable's fine two year old, special agent, by a length and a half.

Franklin was represented in the city Saturday by Don Randall.

YANKEES WHIP WHITE SOX 6 TO 2

Chicago, July 21.—(AP)—Extra base hitting behind the six-hit flinging of Lefty Vernon Gomez gave the Yankees an easy 6 to 2 victory over the White Sox today and kept them two games behind the league leading Detroit club.

Gomez chalked up his 15th victory of the season. Lou Gehrig swatted his 26th homer of the year, a line drive into the right field stands, for the second Yankee run after he and Bill Dickey had counted for doubles in the first. Dickey followed Lou's blow with his eleventh circuit drive.

REDLEGS NOSEOUT GIANTS 3 TO 2

New York, July 21.—(AP)—Allyn Stout, who hadn't pitched a complete game in 20 previous appearances, got the better of the mighty Carl Hubbell today to give the cellar dwelling Reds a 3 to 2 victory over the Giants.

Stout pitched a brilliant game, giving the world champions only six hits, walking only two and fanning five. He topped off this performance by driving in the decisive run himself in the second inning.

The Reds, beating the league leaders for the fourth time in 13 meetings this season, hit Hubbell hard. They collected nine hits and failed to connect in only two innings.

Errors by both teams, however, were the principal sources of runs. Every Giant infielder except Manager Bill Terry made one costly misplay while Oskie Slade's error started the Giant scoring in the sixth.

ENTRIES CLOSE FRIDAY FOR J.C. TENNIS TOURNNEY

Four City Singles, Three District Singles and Two Doubles Teams Signed Up Thus Far—Deadline is Midnight Next Friday.

Entries for the Journal-Courier's seventh annual tennis championship tournament, in three divisions, must be in before next Friday, midnight, in order to be certain of a place in the drawings. Drawings will be made next Saturday afternoon, and pairings announced next Sunday morning.

Thus far four players have entered the city singles, three the district singles, and two doubles teams have enrolled. The present week is expected to bring a rush of entries as players from Jacksonville and surrounding territory enter the annual joust.

Elmer Lukeman, defending champion, was among the first to enter the lists this year. Lukeman, who fired his way to the junior and senior championship last year, will be a marked man in this year's tournament, but the little fellow, who has put on a few inches in height and a little more weight, is ready for the best in the city. Lukeman also captured the open trophy, defeating the winner of the district singles in a special match.

Lukeman will team with Jack Moriarty, who also is entered in the singles, in the doubles tournament. Moriarty and Edward Vorbeck took first honors in the doubles tournament last year, but this year Vorbeck will not be here to help Moriarty defend the title.

Lyndie Brown, former Waverly champion, is another entry in the singles tournament, along with S. D. Randolph, graduate of Annapolis Naval academy recently. Randolph is a newcomer to the tournament. Neither Brown nor Randolph have named doubles partners.

The city singles tournament is open to all players living in the city limits and within the boundaries of South Jacksonville. Players living outside this boundary are eligible to enter the district singles tournament.

Three Jerseyville players, headed by Jett O. Sunderland, have been nominated for the district title, now held by Merrill Kesinger, of White Hall. Kesinger, although he has not sent in his entry as yet, is expected to defend his title. Sunderland is a former member of the Illinois College tennis team, and is playing with the Jerseyville team this summer. Warren and Forrest Pirtle are other Jerseyville boys who will be in the fight for the district crown this year. Sunderland and Warren Pirtle will team up in the doubles tournament.

The tournament will begin July 30, and will be concluded as soon as possible. It is hoped that the present heat wave will be broken by that time. The Journal-Courier company will provide nets and balls for the championship matches, and will award the champions and runners-up with suitable trophies.

Entries should be sent to the sports editor, Journal-Courier company, giving the time when it is most convenient to play, and the name of the doubles partner. There is no entry fee.

DODGERS TROUNCE PIRATES 8 TO 7

Brooklyn, July 21.—(AP)—The Dodgers made it two straight over the Pittsburgh Pirates today, winning 8 to 7 on a two-run ninth inning rally that resulted from the wildness of Red Lucas and Leon Chagnon.

One run behind going into the ninth, the Dodgers tied it up when Lucas passed Sam Leslie and Tony Cuccinello and Johnny Frederick singled. Chagnon, fifth Pirate slinger, then came in and walked Al Lopez and Owen Carroll to force home the winning tally.

Manager Casey Stengel and Hack Wilson of the Dodgers were banished from the field for arguing with Umpire Ernie Quigley.

Defending Champ Will Meet High School Crown Bearer; Open Tourney Begins in Week

Floyd Craft, who at one time wore the Jacksonville high school golf championship crown, will meet its present bearer today in a 36 hole match to determine the Nichols Park Match Play champion for the season, a title Craft won last year, along with the city championship. Finalists in the other two flights of the tournament will tee off at five minute intervals after the championship flight leaves the first tee to determine the winners of titles in these divisions.

The golfers will tee off at 9 A. M. and 2 P. M. for rounds of 18 holes each. For the rest of the golfers, today will be the big wind-up for practice rounds in anticipation of the opening 36 holes of the Nichols Park Open Medal play tournament, which will begin next Sunday. The eight low scorers in the Nichols Park Open, who are regularly golf players at the park, will represent the park in the city championship tournament, scheduled for August 19, another 36 hole medal play test.

Slight, a bit shy, and not a bit bolder, Craft has become one of the most feared players in match tournaments. Last year he polished off Willie Barber, Jerome's older brother, 5 up and 4 in the championship flight, and he came back this year to hand Willie another defeat, 4 up and 3 in the semi-final round of the present tournament.

There are much longer hitters than the local golfing business than Craft, but few of them can make the ball stay on the line as well as this wiry youngster, whose nimble fingers have won him a few typing prizes. Methodical, and almost unexcitable, Craft has an ideal temperament for tournament golf.

What Craft lacks in distance on his drives, he makes up for with second shots and uncanny putting. Once near the green, it is only a matter of from one to three shots before the ball trickles into the cup.

His opponent has not as yet been tried in the 36 hole championship round, but he got a taste of Craft's ability last year when the typing player fired him out of the match play tournament. Jerome's game has been improving steadily since last year, however, and with the additional confidence of a second place in the 36 hole final of the Illinois State High School Athletic Association tournament, Barber appears to be ready for a thorough test.

Gabe Gardner and Allyn Ketter will meet for the second flight championship and Frank Doyle and Milton Edge will tangle in the third flight final.

The first flight champion will receive an individual championship trophy, and the runner-up will receive eight golf balls. The second flight winner will receive eight golf balls and the runner-up six. Six golf balls will be awarded to the third flight winner and the runner-up will receive four.

Star Timely Hitting Fails As Mt. Olive Wins by 6-5

...sure to hit when the right time came up cost the Jacksonville State Hospital Redlegs a tough baseball game, played in record breaking 111 degree temperature Saturday. Mt. Olive's tri-county champions nosing out the Redlegs 6-5 when a ninth inning Redleg rally failed by one run to knot the count. The Redlegs outthut their adversaries noticeably, 13 to 8, but they couldn't connect when blows meant runs.

Big Bill Sporer was never more right than he was Saturday, but after five innings he had to give in to the elements. He allowed only four blows in the first five frames, but those blows counted runs. Norman Barnes relieved him, and kept the Mt. Olive club from doing anything spectacular. Sensational support, especially in the outer gardens, saved Gretak, Mt. Olive hurler, from early dismissal from the mound. He went the nine innings, but was weakening badly when the final out came up in the ninth inning.

Mt. Olive got its first run in the second inning when Boston tripled after Chilovich singled, but Boston was thrown out at the plate. Barnes to Buban to Clark, trying to make the blow ride for four bases. Haller banded out a triple in the fourth with one man on, and scored later to give Mt. Olive a 3-0 lead, which they stretched to 4-0 the following inning on an error and a single.

Buban Gets Homer

Buban put new life in the Redleg hopes in the sixth when he cracked out a home run through right center, with Clark roosting on base. Two hits which followed Buban's blow went to naught when Barnes popped out.

Mt. Olive got wise to the fact that they could steal bases on the Redlegs and they did it as quickly as they got on first safely. In that manner they turned a pair of hits in the eighth and another pair in the ninth into runs, taking a 6-2 lead with only three outs to go. The heat got Gretak, but he finished the game. Kalvin and Barnes opened up the ninth inning with hits, two men popped out, and then Clark and Orlandini rapped out blows, scoring three runs. Beeley walked, but the tying and winning runs died on base.

CARDINALS NIP BRAVES 5 TO 3

Boston, July 21.—(AP)—Jim Mooney of the St. Louis Cards stepped into the breach today after Bill Hallahan was injured by a line drive and proceeded to pitch his team to a 5-3 victory over the Boston Braves. It was the third victory in a row for the Missourians over the Boston club.

In the second inning Urbanek lined one that dislocated the index finger on Hallahan's pitching hand. The injury is expected to mend quickly.

With the score tied at three all in the seventh, singles by Rothrock, Medwick and a pass to Collins loaded the bases. Then Davis singled to center to score the two runs that provided the margin of victory.

A. F. of L. Against General Strikes; Reiterate Stand

Washington, July 21.—(AP)—A firm stand against general strikes was maintained today by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor.

Calling the San Francisco general strike a "grave mistake," and asserting labor leaders "acted wisely" in calling it off, President Green said:

"No sympathetic strike of any consequence or possessed of any national significance was ever won."

His words were interpreted as lessening the likelihood of another general strike in the United States, and striking a specific blow at any such sentiment in Portland, Ore., and Minneapolis.

Government officials, though silent, seemed more hopeful today that the Pacific coast troubles will yield to arbitration. They awaited a definite "break" in the maritime situation.

Their optimism was somewhat offset by reports from Minneapolis, telling of bloody clashes which federal attempts at mediation had not succeeded in preventing and an appeal for a general strike.

Green's statement pointed to the dangers to workmen themselves as the result of sympathetic strikes.

AUSTRALIAN NET MEN BEAT YANKS

By Gayle Talbot

Associated Press Sports Writer

Wimbledon, Eng., July 21.—(AP)—Bringing across a tremendous wallop from an unexpected quarter, Australia's Davis cup team today captured both singles matches from the United States in the opening of their interzone series to deal what probably is a knockout blow to American hopes of regaining the famous international tennis trophy this year.

Vivian McGrath, curly haired, imperturbable 21-year old star, from down under, knocked the advance dope into a cocked hat by humbling Sidney B. Wood, Jr., Uncle Sam's ace 7-5, 6-4, 1-6, 9-7, after Jack Crawford, the Aussies' top-ranking player, had scored an almost casual victory over Frank X. Shields, 6-1, 6-2, 12-10.

The double setback left Captain R. Norris (Dick) Williams' disappointed warriors facing what looked like an impossible task of sweeping the remaining doubles match Monday and the two singles Tuesday, when Shields engages McGrath and Wood takes on Crawford.

George M. Lott, Jr., will pair with towering Lester Stofen against Crawford and Adrian Quist in the doubles.

Nobody was particularly surprised at Crawford's victory over Shields, as he had vanquished the No. 1 ranking American in the semi-finals of

Mrs. Benj. T. Osborne of Chapin reports that one day last week she found a (near their mail box) a ducks nest with six eggs in it. She took three of the eggs to the house and after breaking them found that the eggs were half cooked. Then she went back for the remainder of the eggs and during that time the duck had added another egg to the nest. These four eggs were also broken and it was found that three of these were cooked making six soft boiled eggs. The last egg that was added to the nest was the only one that had not been in the sun long enough to be cooked.

Bennie and Pauline Osborne are spending a few days at the home of their grand parents John T. Osborne, wife and daughter.

Alford Preston and family visited Joe Sours and family one evening recently.

Ed Wilds was a caller Tuesday at the J. T. Osborne home.

PRESSSTOCK MARKET
LITTLE LOWER

By Frederick Gardner

Associated Press Financial Writer

New York, July 21.—(P)—While liquidation in stocks diminished, rally-

ing power was limited in the brief

week-end session today and the market settled a little lower.

Early selling, carrying over from yesterday's outburst of liquidation, too

many issues to new low level for the year, especially among rails.

Later the market steadied as pressure lifted. Modest recoveries before the close left the standard statistics

co. index for 90 stocks only two-

tenths of a point lower at 75.

Volume totaled 619,970 shares, the largest for a Saturday session in more than a month, and compared with 194,

330 a week ago.

Metal shares showed the best rallying power. U. S. Smelting finished

about 2 points higher and Cerro De

Pasco, Howe Sound and Alaska

Jumbo recovered fractionally to more than a point. Homestake mining dropped 15 points in a thin market.

Rails were on firmer ground but

new 1934 minimums were registered

for New York Central, Pennsylvania,

Southern and Great Northern.

The decline of liquor shares was extended, with national distillers,

Schenley and American Commercial

Alcohol touching lowest prices of the year. Industrial leaders were little changed at the close.

Demand for steel was reported to be

somewhat better than had been expected recently and a small gain in operating schedules of some Young-

town producers next week was forecast. Cram estimated automobile output this week held steady at 65,829

units, a decline of 803 from the previous week and 2,692 above that of the corresponding period last year.

Cotton higher, continued dry

weather western belt.

Sugar and coffee closed.

Chicago:

Wheat higher, no drought relief.

Corn strong, crop damage extending.

Cattle undertone weak.

Hogs steady, demand narrow.

WHEAT VALUES
UP TWO CENTS

By John P. Boughan

Chicago, July 21.—(P)—Almost 2

cents a bushel rise of wheat values today accompanied an official forecast

indicating that next week would bring

no substantial relief from drought.

Highest prices of the day were reached by wheat just before trading

was ended. Increased volume of dealings went hand in hand with upturns

of quotations.

Wheat closed firm, 1-11 above yesterday's finish, corn 1-11 up, oats 1-

1/2 advanced, and provisions varying from 10 cents lower to 5 cents gain.

Nearly from the outset, all grains

showed a tendency to climb, but it was not until receipt of the Washington weather predictions for next week

that the wheat market went upward

in earnest. Much of the new purchasing orders in the wheat pit appeared to originate northwest and this circumstances was deemed significant of more and more unimproving prospects

in the spring crop belt. Adding to the upward momentum of wheat values

here was the fact that the Liverpool

market displayed unexpected relative

firmness, a development attributed to indications that yesterday's break in Chicago had been largely due to an unfounded rumor asserting big quantities of Argentine wheat sold to Europe would be hedged in this country and in Canada.

Record-breaking high temperatures

for the season reported over practically all of the corn belt, with word

that not a good rain anywhere had been witnessed, served to stimulate

not only demand for corn but for all other grains. Statements were especially stressed that corn crop deterioration was rapid, and was extending

into new territory—Iowa and Illinois

in particular. Friends of higher prices

for corn contended that the market so far had signally failed to adjust itself to the known facts regarding the corn crop, with huge areas of corn destroyed since July 1 and with official

forecasts of that date rendered of no value now.

Rural offerings of corn today showed a notable falling-off. The movement of newly harvested wheat in the southwest, continued to recede,

ten terminal markets of that region

receiving but 787 cars. Oats were governed by corn action.

Most deliveries of provisions went

higher with grains.

ARMY WILL SECURE MEDICAL OFFICERS

The War Department has announced dates for examinations for quality candidates for appointment in the Medical, Dental, Veterinary, and Medical Administrative Corps of the Medical Department to fill existing and anticipated vacancies in the respective corps during the fiscal year 1935.

Approved applicants will be authorized to appear before local examining boards distributed throughout the United States on the following dates:

Medical Corps—Sept. 24-28, 1934.
Dental Corps—Oct. 1-5, 1934.
Veterinary Corps—Oct. 8-12, 1934.
Medical Administrative Corps—Oct. 15-20, 1934.

All dates are inclusive.

The Medical Department has experienced an unusually large number of separations from the service during the last few months and the list of qualified candidates which resulted from examinations held during March and April has been exhausted in filling the vacancies created. It is estimated that there will be at least fifty-one vacancies in all corps as of Oct. 1, 1934.

All appointees as a result of the fall examinations will be ordered to the Medical Field Service School, Carlisle Barracks, Pennsylvania, for the basic course of instruction, Jan. 1, 1935.

Applications for authority to take the examination for any of the corps except Medical Administrative Corps, should be forwarded direct to The Adjutant General, War Department, Washington, D. C. Applications for the latter corps will be submitted through usual military channels in that such applicants are required by law to be enlisted men of the Medical Department.

"MARY FAITH" by Beatrice Burton

SYNOPSIS

Mary Faith, comely young orphan, is secretary to Mark Nesbit, wealthy business man. She gives up her position to marry Kimberley Farrell, shiftheed young lawyer. Mary Faith believes that loving a man hard enough will make everything come out all right in the end. It was this confidence that enabled her to marry Kim after he had once broken their engagement. She realizes he has an eye for every girl, but hopes that married life will sober him and make him successful in his profession. Instead, Kim is annoyed at Mary Faith's "Puritanism," and his jazzy friends, Claire and Jack Maldon, find her a dull companion. Learning that she is to become a mother, Mary Faith, for the first time, visits Kim's office. Kim is furious when Mary Faith finds him flirting with his blond secretary. That night he informs his mother and Mary Faith that he is leaving. Mary Faith, heartbroken at this turn of affairs, decides not to tell Kim of her coming motherhood. She and Mrs. Farrell decide to struggle to keep the home for the coming baby. Mary Faith obtains a position as typist. She refuses to accede to Kim's request for a divorce and asks him to wait six months before carrying out his desire. As the bells are ringing in the New Year, Mary Faith's son is born. Kim, informed of this event, returns home and becomes, for a time, a proud and happy father. Kim is restored to his old position which he had lost due to money irregularities.

CHAPTER XXVIII

There had been a great deal of discussion about the baby's name. Mary Faith and Mrs. Farrell wanted him named Kimberley, of course. Every boy ought to have his father's name, they maintained. But Kim was for something plain and short and solid, like John or Bill.

"There ought to be a law against hanging names like Kimberley and Livingston and Percival on boys," he had told them. "When I was a kid I used to have to fight in the schoolyard about once a week with somebody or other who'd make fun of my name."

Mary Faith took the cup out of its white pasteboard box as soon as Claire had gone. It was made of hammered silver and it had two little round handles. On one side of it was engraved: "For little Kim from his Aunt Claire."

"I wonder where his Uncle Jack comes in," Mrs. Farrell said dryly, as she looked at it. "I suppose he just pays the bill, eh?"

That night at dinner she told Kim about the cup.

"Your friend, Mrs. Maldon, brought the baby a present today," she said, making a face as if the beef broth she was drinking was very bitter. "She brought him a cup—and he not able to hold his own bottle yet! Why didn't she bring him a carriage cover or something useful. I'd like to know. . . My, but I do dislike that woman!"

"I saw a cup the other day that I'd have liked to buy for the baby, myself," said Kim. "It had two handles, to make it easy to hold, and the silver that it was made of was hammered so that it wouldn't show any dents even if the baby did throw it on the floor. . . Babies do throw everything on the floor, don't they, when they're prived?"

Neither Mary Faith nor his mother answered him. They were staring at each other across the table.

Kim looked from one to the other of them.

"What's the matter with you two?" he asked.

Mary Faith got up and opened the top drawer of the sideboard. From it she took the white box. She set it down before him on the table and opened it. Within it was the little two-handled cup of hammered silver.

She lifted it out without saying a word and set it on the tablecloth.

He began to laugh. "Well, I'll be doggoned," he said. "You've got me with the goods this time, haven't you?—Let me tell you both what

"I wouldn't trust that Mrs. Maldon any farther than I could throw an elephant by the tail," Mrs. Farrell remarked.

happened; I was walking down Spring Street the other day and whom should I run into but Claire. She was on her way to the Pign' Whistle to get a bite of lunch and so was I. So we went there together, and afterward we were looking into Armbruster's window and we saw this little cup. She must have gone in after I left her and bought it."

He picked it up and put it back into the box.

"I suppose I ought to have said something about it," his voice ran on, "but I forgot all about it. After all it wasn't anything to remember, was it?—Having lunch with the wife of one of your friends? We thought Jack might join us there. He eats lunch there himself almost every day."

He raised his eyes and looked across the table at Mary Faith.

"You aren't sure, are you?"

"Why, of course not, Kim. Why would I be angry?—You have a perfect right to have lunch with Claire if you want to."

And then they began to talk about something else and the matter of the cup was forgotten.

But the next morning Mrs. Farrell brought it up again while she watched Mary Faith washing out the baby's little flannels in the bathroom bowl.

"I wouldn't trust that Mrs. Maldon any farther than I could throw an elephant by the tail," she remarked from her seat on the rim of the bathtub. "I wouldn't be surprised to find out that she had asked Kimberley to take her to lunch. You take a woman like that, who has a lot of time on her hands, and nine times out of ten she's just the kind that goes around having love affairs with her husband's friends or with any other good-looking man that she takes a fancy to."

Mary Faith shook her dark glossy head as she wrung the baby's little nightgowns out of the fluffy soap suds.

"I'm not worrying about Claire Maldon, Mother Farrell," she answered, "or about any other woman these days. Why Kim's home before six almost every night and he's as settled and as sober as a judge lately. I don't believe he has anything but business on his mind."

On the first of April the firm gave him a salary raise of ten dollars a week.

sentence at the federal prison at Atlanta, Ga., for violating the income tax law.

Among those on the original list killed by their own kind were Joe Aiello, George (Red) Barker, William "Three-fingered Jack" White, labor racketeer, and Doc Zuta.

Some of the others are still in circulation, but their activities, whatever they may be, have not come to the attention of investigating officials.

These include Ralph Capone, brother of Al. Ralph served a three-year sentence in federal prison for violating the income tax law, but returned to Chicago not many months ago, since when little has been heard of him.

Frank McElrane, one of the original public enemies, is dead, but he beat the addage that gangster men die by the gun. Pneumonia killed him as he lay in a houseboat on the Illinois river near Beardstown.

In ancient Greece and Rome it was the fashion not to sit at tables as we do, but to recline on couches while eating.

MacMurray swimming pool will be open to the public until September 1 for plunges and lessons. Inquire at the business office.

Alphonse Capone, No. 1 on the original list, is serving a ten year prison

"Seventy smackers now for you two to throw around every week of your lives!" he told his mother and Mary Faith when he came home with the news. "That ought to buy the baby shoes every now and then, eh what?" He twinkled with satisfaction and pride.

"Or some new clothes for me and Mary Faith," said his mother. "We're like a couple of scarecrows."

"Yes, but we hardly ever go out—and when we do we go in the car and nobody sees us. It's Kim who needs new clothes right now. His spring overcoat is faded and worn around the cuffs and pockets—and appearance is everything to a man. He must look successful or he never gets anywhere in his work," Mary Faith put in. "So I think Kim ought to get himself a new overcoat before the rest of us even think of new clothes."

But the next week Mrs. Farrell went downtown on a shopping trip and came home with a new hat of king's blue felt that brought out all the hollows and shadows of her face.

"I took five dollars out of the housekeeping money and bought myself this hat," she confessed to Mary Faith when she came home. "I had to go up to see Dr. Thatcher and I hated to go in that gray hat of mine. I've worn that hat every time I've gone up there for the last three years."

HEAT RECORD SET FOR THIRD CONSECUTIVE DAY

Delegate To Knights Templar Meet Has Varied Experiences

Going from torrid zones to cold, and from scenes of peace and contentment into the midst of turmoil, A. J. Donovan and his son Robert, received their biggest shock while in San Francisco attending the national convocation of Grand Commandery, Knights Templar, when they picked up a copy of the San Francisco News and learned about the severe storm which swept Jacksonville, July 10. Mr. Donovan, local city route mail carrier, said yesterday that he wired home immediately to learn the extent of the damage and the condition of members of his family.

Thoroughly heated in the desert, pleasantly cool while on the west coast, and frozen while watching a snow storm in the Canadian Rockies was the way Mr. Donovan described the weather on his 15 day trip, via train, from Chicago to the west coast, through Canada and back to Chicago.

Weather was not the topic of conversation on the trip, which Mr. Donovan made with a large number of Knights Templar from Illinois and other midwestern states. While in San Francisco, the party slept in Pullman coaches near the center of the longshoremen's strike activity. On the return trip the party passed through North Dakota and saw there the ravages of the drouth, and stopped in Minneapolis, undergoing a truckers strike.

The San Francisco strike was brewing warmly when the mid-western party pulled into the city, Mr. Donovan said, but through the efforts of the police and union representatives, no violence was permitted until after the convention broke up after four days in the city. Mobs gathered frequently near the place where the Pullman train which was being used for housing quarters for the mid-western group had been left just across the street from the municipal docks and national guardmen, police and strikers paraded near the train all the time. Several members of the party considered the experience as harrowing, and at times even frightening.

In Minneapolis, where the train paused for two hours, Mr. Donovan said he saw trucks loaded with newspapers, and guarded by policemen, dash up to the station and unload. Police guards were posted on all trucks moving, because of the large crowds of truck drivers who dumped over trucks carrying merchandise wherever they were able to find them unguarded.

Scenes of almost unbelievable desolation flashed past the windows of the train as it sped through North Dakota, the part of the nation which appeared to be worst hit by the drouth. In many places, Mr. Donovan said, dirt was piled high around trees and fields were swept clean of top soil and vegetation. Great mounds of drifted dust were seen occasionally as the train sped through the state.

There was plenty of beauty to see during the trip, however, Mr. Donovan said. When the party arrived in Denver, they were taken on a 45 mile automobile ride to the top of Lookout Mountain. The following day they were taken to Colorado Springs, where they detoured and took another trip to the top of Pike's Peak, towering 14,109 feet above sea level. They also looked into the so-called Bottomless Pit, and got their first taste of chilly weather.

Reach Salt Lake City
Three days after leaving Chicago, the party reached Salt Lake City where they took an automobile tour, and then dashed thru the desert, where they encountered their hottest weather until arriving in the middle west on the way back. From Salt Lake City the train carried the delegation to Los Angeles where the party paused for two days, going through Hollywood and Los Angeles one day, and visiting at Catalina Island the next day. The party had dinner before leaving Los Angeles at the Biltmore hotel.

From Los Angeles to San Francisco the train wound along the coast line. The party was in San Francisco four days for the convention, the highlight of which was the parade of visiting delegates which took two hours, to pass a given point. American delegates wore white plumes in their head dress, and Canadian delegates wore black plumes. It was estimated that 15,000 persons took part in the parade.

A bit uncertain about their future, the party ferried from San Francisco across the bay to Oakland despite the murmurings of the strikers. Reaching Oakland without any trouble, the group next went to Portland, Oregon, where a drive along the beautiful Columbia River highway began the sightseeing on the homeward trip. Numerous falls, including the Multnomah falls, were pointed out during the drive.

Seattle was the next stop, and a boat trip over Puget Sound to Victoria, British Columbia, was another highlight. The party was taken over the city of Victoria, and then went to Vancouver, and saw the beautiful parliament buildings, as well as the many beautiful homes.

Mr. Donovan began to wish he had taken along some winter clothes when on July 15, the party swung aboard train again and headed into the Canadian Rockies. Along the track moose and deer fed without fear of the roaring locomotive, and mountain goats leaped about not far from the train, playing on the rock mountainsides without fear of life or limb. The party stopped at Lake Louise that night.

Awakening on the morning of July 16, Mr. Donovan was considerably surprised to see a snow storm raging. The party trooped into automobiles and was taken to Banff, famous summer resort. While on this ride, Mr. Donovan said he saw the most beautiful rainbow he has ever seen, made by the sun flashing on the snowflakes, and the rainbow forming just above the green tree-tops, with the mountains for a background.

Leaving Banff, the party crossed back into the United States at Portal, whirled across North Dakota and Minnesota, thence through Iowa and then to Chicago, where the party disbanded July 18. Mr. Donovan returned to Jacksonville the following day.

Chandlerville Man is Near Tragedy Scene

Aids in Learning Identity of 5 Victims; Rites Today

Chandlerville, July 21.—Richard McDonald was a business caller in Gridley and Bloomington Thursday. While there word of the Vaughn-Armstrong auto tragedy came to his notice. His chance presence at the scene of the accident assisted materially in making identifications. Identification cards carried by Mr. Vaughn were disengaged by the force of the impact which threw Mr. Vaughn some distance from the car. Additional information and addresses were found in the purse carried by Mrs. Vaughn. The Chicago address of relatives in Chicago where the group was to have been entertained, enabled investigators to send word of the fatal accident.

Preparations for the five funerals in Chandlerville Sunday are taxing the necessary facilities. Additional supplies had to be purchased by the cemetery officials. Seldom have more than two funerals been cared for here on one day.

Due to the serious lacerations and injuries it is doubtful whether the bodies may be viewed.

When the ambulance and hearse arrived in Chandlerville late Thursday evening, the streets were lined with cars which had brought friends from the surrounding neighborhoods where all the victims were well known. The sidewalks in the downtown district presented the appearance of a busy Saturday evening.

Judson Armstrong of Lima, Ohio arrived Friday to attend the Armstrong funeral.

News Notes
The Misses Elizabeth and Cordelia Russell, daughters of Dr. C. C. Russell of Easton were Friday guests of Miss Margaret Clegg.

Mr. and Mrs. Ora Shankland returned Tuesday from a motor trip through Wisconsin spending a day on their way home from Chicago.

Mrs. Clyde Henry of Pekin was a Thursday caller in Chandlerville. Mr. and Mrs. Loren Arthall of Virginia were Thursday callers here.

Mrs. Clyde Carr was a Sunday caller in Petersburg. Mrs. Wilma Martin returned Monday from her vacation spent at her home in Flora, Illinois.

Members of Miss Lela Dyson's Sunday School class spent Thursday afternoon swimming at Johnson's Slough. At five o'clock a picnic supper was served. Those present were the Misses Mary Eleanor Plunkett, Lowene Dietrich, Helen Marie Boenland, Wilma Misteard, Mary Louise Dorr and Lela Dyson.

GREENE COUNTY CORN CROP HURT BY HOT WEATHER

Only One Rainfall Occurs at Carrollton Since April; Record Heat

Carrollton, Ill., July 21.—The corn crop situation in this community is hourly taking more serious aspect and as the heat and drought conditions are growing worse each day it now seems as if very little of the crop in this community is going to escape severe damage and probably complete loss. Last Thursday the mercury reached 108.3 for a record. Friday was a few degrees cooler, registering a high of 102 at 5:10 p. m., when the thunder clouds began to form and a stiff wind started blowing. In half an hour it looked as if Carrollton was due to a drenching rain, but a light sprinkle accompanied by a scattering of large hail which lasted for only a few moments was all. In less than an hour the mercury to 84.

Sunday broke the record when 109 was reached and a hot wind blew all day, doing more damage to corn than any yet. Since Sunday the mercury has hung around the hundred mark. Wednesday it reached 108 and Thursday morning a storm hung over this city from 2:30 until 3:00 o'clock and a heavy wind and lightning storm swept the section, but only a few drops of rain fell. Since early in April the city of Carrollton has had only one rainfall that amounted to over a trace, an dthat fall amounted to only about 1.5 inches, and since May 26 the mercury has hovered well over 95, and up to 108, except on very few days.

Grand Canyon Is Second Subject For National Park Stamp Series

What is in many ways the most overwhelming natural phenomenon in the world has been chosen for the second of the new series of stamps the government is issuing on U. S. national parks. The Grand Canyon of the Colorado is an awe-inspiring fissure cut from 4000 to 6000 feet deep into the Colorado plateau in northern Arizona. It is from one to 15 miles across at the top and extends 283 miles along the river's course. The more interesting sections of the canyon region have been made a national park, property of the people, to insure preservation of their matchless scenery and outdoor value.

Mercury Rises to 111 Degrees Saturday to Establish New Mark

For the third consecutive day heat records in Jacksonville have been broken. Saturday the mercury advanced in the thermometer to 111 degrees to pass the mark set Friday by one degree, when a registration of 110 degrees was made. The temperature here Thursday was 109 degrees and was the hottest day the city had experienced so far as official records show.

No relief from the excessive heat is promised by the weather man, last night's forecast being continued warm in Illinois. And, Monday the weather will continue warm with some indication that there will be some cloudiness, the forecast reads.

At noon the mercury stood at 108 degrees Dr. F. P. Norbury, U. S. Weather observer, reported, and the climb in temperature continued until at 1:30 o'clock Friday a record of 110 degrees had been reached. At 3:00 o'clock the mercury stood at 111 degrees. The final temperature report for the day, which occurred at 6:30 o'clock last night showed 102 degrees of heat.

The registration of 111 degrees yesterday combined to reveal a change of temperature of 139 degrees here within less than five months. On February 27 of this year Jacksonville residents had closed their doors against weather that registered 28 degrees below zero. They were shoveling coal and otherwise attempting to keep warm and hoping for warmer weather in order that their dwindling coal supplies would be saved and they could have some relief from the frigid temperatures. Today there is more heat than the citizenry knows what to do with, and in less than five months local residents have experienced two extremes of weather.

The parching, searing rays of the sun continued to beat down on the helpless regions and all foliage withered under the fiery blasts during the day. Farmers of this vicinity were forced to give more attention to their livestock Saturday than Friday to prevent them being killed by the intense heat. Anxious eyes watched wells and other sources of water supplies closely as the necessary demand for water continues.

The buildings, particularly those in the central part of the city, failed to cool off very noticeably during the night and the effects of the heat wave pronounced early yesterday morning. Many residents here spent sleepless nights, with only slight and few cooler breezes to afford any relief from the sultry, dry atmosphere. Saturday, as occurred in numerous places on Friday, many people working outside were forced to cease their labors for the remainder of the day.

Many people sorely feel the loss of many big shade trees which were broken down by the recent storm, permitting the sun to beat directly upon homes and other buildings.

The toll of the country's intense heat wave yesterday had reached a total of 264 of which 106 victims were added Saturday. Chicago and Kansas City had 28 and 25 "heat deaths," respectively. As far as it is known, no prostrations have been reported in this city. Weather officials believe that Sunday will have continued high temperatures, with no indication of rain for this region.

The O.E.S. will not meet August 2, as planned, because of the heat, but will have a meeting August 16. Mrs. Edgar Green will be the chairman of the social committee which will plan the entertainment for that date.

Tennis matches between Rushville and Beardstown which were to be played Saturday beginning at 10 o'clock here were called off because of the illness of three of Rushville players and the intense heat.

Nine matches, six singles and three doubles, were to have been played at the State Street courts.

Beardstown won the first games of the schedule by defeating the Canton teams 5 to 4, last Sunday.
